

Matsqui Starts Work Projects Immediately

PARK AND CEMETERY WORKS WILL PROVIDE $12,000 IN WAGES

It is expected work will commence this Thursday or Friday on half a dozen projects in Matsqui municipality on which the labor costs will be financed jointly by the Dominion and Provincial governments under the Municipal Improvements Assistance Act. Estimated benefit in wages is $12,000 and the work consists mainly of improvements to existing cemeteries and parks and development of new park sites.

Telegraphic advice of approval of projects submitted by Matsqui under the joint Provincial-Dominion aid scheme has been received, Reeve George Cruickshank told THE NEWS last night, but details have not yet arrived, he said. It was hoped, however, the reeve declared, to commence work this Thursday or Friday. Matsqui must bear cost of materials and administration.

Projects submitted by Matsqui and believed approved, Reeve Cruickshank said, included improvements to Aberdeen and Mt. Lehman cemeteries and development of the following parks: Poplar North, Hazelwood, Jubilee, Peardonville and Poplar South. Community Hall while Poplar Park The last named park is the site of the proposed new Poplar Community North is the present designation of a picnic park to be created in the grove of trees on the north side of the old Yale and Trans-Canada highways at Clearbrook (Continued on Page Six)

Abbs-Reps Cop League Honors In Softball

Abbs-Reps, Abbotsford's entry in Vancouver softball circles, have won the open section of the Industrial League after playing down Johnston Motors in a two-out-of-three play-offs. The first game of the series was won by the Vancouver team with an 11-6 score. The game was handed to the victors by many errors and an all-round exhibition of poor ball playing. The outcome of the second game, played on Friday in the city was 9-5 for the A-R's. For this second game the local team played a real brand of baseball, the brand that kept them at the top of the league all during the season, and came out with a 1-0 tie in games which necessitated a game in Abbotsford on Sunday. Johnston Motors failed to put in an appearance for the final game and thereby forfeited the league championship.

On Monday night the A-R's entered the Vancouver City Senior B Championships by playing the entry of Hammond Furniture in the closed section of the Industrial league. Score of the game was 4-1 against the Abbotsford team. Except for one inning in which Hammonds got their four runs, first class ball was played by both teams. The second game of the play-downs is scheduled for tonight (Wednesday) and Abbs-Reps are hopeful for a win. The third game, if necessary, will be played in Abbotsford on Sunday.

To replace the game scheduled for Sunday with Johnston Motors, Abbotsford was host to the Chilliwack team and beat them on both ends of a double-header, 16-3 and 10-5.

ALEX. CRUICKSHANK, STRICKEN FRIDAY, IS IMPROVING

Condition of Mr. Alex. Cruickshank, pioneer Matsqui resident and father of Reeve George Cruickshank, who suffered a paralytic stroke on Friday, indicated a little improvement last night. Mr. Cruickshank was found Friday afternoon in his workshop where he had apparently been overcome by the attack. Although 78 years of age, it is his hobby to make and invent useful articles, particularly improvements to tools. Reeve Cruickshank was conferring with Harry J. Sullivan, K.C., municipal solicitor, in New Westminster at the time, but was summoned by phone and driven home by Mr. Sullivan.

Dairymen are flocking to Oceanside, Calif., to see a calf which gives milk at only five weeks of age. Dairymen said it was a rare case, probably due to inbreeding among the herd.

Fraser Valley Scenic Circle and International Loop Highway

Cover of the new folder issued by the International Scenic Loop Association is illustrated by the above group of Washington and Fraser Valley views depicting the varied attractions of the Loop and Fraser Valley Scenic Circle tours. The folder, second issued by the association, is being released this week. It was designed and printed by The News. Another group of eight pictures features the bathing, fishing, hunting, hiking and other attractions. A large two-color map outlines the route for both American and Coast motorists.

New Folders Issued To Draw Motorists To Fraser Valley

A striking new folder is being issued this week by the International Scenic Loop Association whose object is to attract more American tourists and more Vancouver motorists to visit the Fraser Valley. Ten thousand of the two-color, illustrated folders are being circulated, the American edition as far south as the Golden Gate Exposition and the Canadian edition through publicity and information bureaus in Vancouver and New Westminster.

The encouraging results reported from the first folder published last year as the initial effort of the Association provided incentive for the more ambitious publicity pamphlet issued this season. The fifteen pictures used to illustrate the 1939 folder were chosen from views submitted by the seven Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and Service Clubs supporting the association. While last year's illustrations strongly featured the pastoral aspects of the International Loop and Scenic Circle this year's publication stresses the natural scenic attractions and sports opportunities although the above group of pictures reveals all phases are represented.

TWO EDITIONS

Again the edition for American distribution publicizes the "Scenic Route to British Columbia" and adviser motorists from Seattle and Bellingham to enter Canada via Sumas-Huntingdon Port of Entry. Just in case we already living here do not appreciate our setting we quote from the folder: "Something to see... something to do every mile of this International Scenic Highway Loop through the leading agricultural district of Washington into the premier farming district of British Columbia, nestling in lush valleys, surrounded by snow-capped mountains of unsurpassed scenic grandeur. Surfaced highways, accommodation of every type from camp grounds and cabin to host-els de luxe and natural hot springs baths. Recreation to your own taste: Mountain climbing. Continued on Page Five

MATSQUI C. N. AGENT MOVES TO CHILLIWACK

After 24 years service as agent for the Canadian National Railways at Matsqui station, J. C. Morris has been advised of his transfer to Chilliwack where the agent is retiring. Donald Morris of the staff of the Abbotsford branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, is a son. Transfer takes effect this month.

CACTUS BURSTS BRASS BONDS TO REACH SUN

A remarkable demonstration of the physical strength of a growing plant may be seen in THE NEWS window this week. One shoot of a Snake Plant cactus contained in a galvanized brass flower pot has apparently grown horizontally instead of vertically from the root. Those that have grown normally are now from 6 inches to 2 feet in height but this horizontal shoot met with delay. However, it would not procrastinate and run right or left detours (such as "C" street does trying to reach the Trans-Canada highway) it just hunched its shoulders and pushed. As a result it has burst through the brass wall of the ornamental pot and now extends about one inch into the sunlight. The base of the shoot is about three-quarters of an inch in diameter and it is gradually breaking the soldered heading around the centre of the flower pot in order to expand. Pete Biro of Abbotsford enters this latest exhibit in THE NEWS window exposition.

Three other sons and four daughters survive: Elmer at Winnipeg, Earl at Rosedale, Eugene at Cutknife, Sask., Mrs. H. J. Hyde and Mrs. A. J. C. Green at Rosedale, Mrs. W. D. NORMAN MARCY'S LEG AMPUTATED BY HAY MOWER

The second haying accident among district youths in the week occurred last Wednesday when Norman Marcy, aged 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Marcy, Vye road, Sumas, had his right leg amputated by a mower on the home farm. Norman was assisting with the haying and got closer to the mower than the operator, J. Cameron, realized. Cameron shouted a warning but the boy was unable to jump clear in time, the mower guards clamped on his leg and the fast-moving blades severed it just below the knee. He is a patient in M.S.A. General Hospital.

Earlier in the week, as reported in THE NEWS, Teddy Low, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Low, Sumas Prairie, was fatally crushed under the wheels of a hay wagon at South Sumas.

MORE STAFF CHANGES

Additional resignations received at the M.S.A. Educational Area office at the month-end brings the total number of new teaching appointments necessary before schools reopen next month to 12.

PURCHASES GARAGE

Eklund, operator of the station, is moving temporarily to a small building at his residence on the Harris road just east of Riverside. It is understood he plans to build.

TRUCK DAMAGED

Damage estimated at $140 was caused to a truck owned by John H. Martens of Yarrow when it overturned Friday on the Boundary road, Sumas. The driver, Jacob Jantzen, is reported to have attempted to avoid a piece of timber believed to have dropped from another truck and driven too far out on the loose shoulder.

Find Meteorite Fragment On Bulb Farm At Bradner

BURNED-OUT FRAGMENT FOUND HALF BURIED IN SCORCHED FOOTPATH

Yes, a fragment of the meteor which flashed over the Lower Mainland on July 20, landed in Bradner. It was found on July 27 by Robert Donaldson who farms on the Bradner road just north of the B.C.E.R. tracks.

The fragment found by Mr. Donaldson and believed to have caused the flash of light observed on the evening of July 20 by Miss Rhoda Gledhill and others, weighs six ounces. It measures roughly 3 1/2 and 2 inches and is of burnt clay color. Perforated with small holes it looks something like a small sponge formed of rocklike substance.

Mr. Donaldson told THE NEWS that he noticed the strange rock protruding from a hard-packed earth path and also noticed that the earth around it appeared to have been burnt for about 4 inches radius. It must have struck with considerable force to penetrate the packed earth for more than half its own length and have burned for some time to have seared the earth in the manner observed.

The path which the meteorite fragment struck is among Mr. Donaldson's bulb plots and only a few feet from a chicken house. Had the white hot meteorite struck the roof of the latter he believes it would have gone right through and ignited the structure. As it was, no one noticed the occurrence on the night of July 20 and the fragment was not found until Mr. Donaldson happened to use this path a week later.

From Jubilee it is reported that Mrs. Bert Donaldson and Marjorie Donaldson observed a meteor fall across the Fraser River from Jubilee on the night of the phenomenon. It is also reported from that district that Messrs. Bert Johnson, Joe Newadoni, Marvyn Clark and Walter Weismuller observed, from the highway near Abbotsford, what appeared to be a bonfire burning high in the sky above Mt. Baker.

Had Resided In Matsqui Half Century

DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING OBSERVED SEVERAL YEARS AGO

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Elizabeth White, pioneer resident of Mount Lehman, were held from the Henderson Funeral Home at 2:30 p.m. on Monday. Rev. A. G. Gay of Clayburn-Mount Lehman United churches officiated and interment was in Aberdeen cemetery. There was a large attendance of friends and numerous floral tributes. Pallbearers were L. Coghlan, W. Towlan, D. Nicholson, C. Lehman, A. Hawkins and E. Phillips.

Mrs. White passed away in M.S.A. General Hospital at 4 p.m. on Friday, July 28, after a month's illness. She had resided in Mount Lehman for 50 years and was predeceased in January, 1937, by her husband, Edmund White. Shortly before the latter's death the couple observed the diamond anniversary of their marriage. Born in Toronto, July 12, 1855, Mrs. White was in her 85th year.

Four daughters and three sons survive their mother: Mrs. W. Miller, Penticton; Mrs. Frank Brown, Victoria; Mrs. J. H. De Graves, whose husband is assistant fire chief in Vancouver; Mrs. Harry Nascou, New Westminster; Ed. White and J. White, Mount Lehman, and T. White, Lively, B.C.

"C" Street Landowners Might Help

Construction of the missing link in "C" Street should benefit more than tourist traffic. One of the obstacles to construction has always been said to be the low-lying boggy nature of the mile gap. If the road is to be constructed, as even the Department of Public Works is believed to admit it ultimately must be, good drainage ditches will have to be dug on each side of the grade. Such ditches would materially assist drainage of a wide area each side of the right-of-way and materially improve the value of the land. With this in mind perhaps the landowners affected could co-operate with the Board of Trade, the International Seaside Loop Highway Association, Sumas Municipal Council, the District Liberal and Conservative associations and other public bodies in urging an early start on at least ditching of the right-of-way and partial construction of the grade this season. It was recently revealed that the right-of-way had not even been purchased by the Public Works Department. As it would appear to be of mutual benefit, could not the owners of the property approach the department and hasten affairs by making an equitable proposition on the land required? If this were done the government would have little excuse to further delay this doubly necessary piece of highway construction as it is recalled locally that departmental surveys were made several years ago and plans and specifications prepared to build this mile of road and save tourist traffic the present unseemly detours.

An Accident Narrowly Averted

When you first notice the brakes on your car slip is the time to have them adjusted. The truth of this advice was brought home on the highway the other night when a Matsqui motorist almost ran down a pair of cyclists when his vision was obscured by the bright headlights of an approaching car. The white patch on the rear fender of one of the bikes caught the driver's eye and he slammed on his brakes, narrowly averting a serious accident. He informed The News he was very thankful that he had had the brakes adjusted only a few hours before when he noticed they were not perfect. Two boys and their families also have reason to be thankful.

The Canadian Weeklies

A tribute to the weeklies of the Dominion was paid recently by the Toronto Star, when it drew a comparison of the operations and influence between the daily and the weekly.

"This is a reminder of the fine part played by the weekly press in Canadian life and affairs; of its splendid contribution to the areas which it serves. It performs a service which some city people are apt to underestimate. They underestimate, too, perhaps, the importance of the smaller communities in which many of these weeklies are published. These communities supply the nation with more than their share of its foremost men and women; leaders in the professions, in business life, in public life. In journalism, as in other spheres of activity, many important posts are held by men who had their early training on a weekly newspaper.

"There is a reason for this. The weeklies are closer to their field and to the life of the people than any metropolitan newspaper can hope to be. Their writers know personally many of those about whom they write. They have their fingers upon the community pulse. They are in touch with the thoughts and manner of life of the men and women of their constituency to a degree which in a larger constituency is not possible. And they learn to be accurate. If there is a mistake in name or initials or in the facts about a local gathering, they soon hear about it. So the training afforded by a weekly newspaper is invaluable in its relation to the realities of human experience and the importance of faithful reporting.

"A metropolitan newspaper cultivates its field 'extensively'; a weekly, 'intensively'. The former reaches out into the far corners of the world for news of what is happening there. The latter concentrates on its own district in a way which a city paper can not possibly do. Instead of foreign correspondents it has close-to-home correspondents—country correspondents they are usually called—who send in weekly budgets of news from places round about. These rural part-time newspapermen and newspaperwomen make a genuine contribution to the paper which they serve, and some of them serve it for a lifetime. They give it a home touch which the metropolitan press can not provide.

"But lifetime service is not a monopoly of country correspondents. There are weeklies which have been under management of one man for as long as most people can remember. They have taken on his personality, and he and his paper are one in the eyes of the community. In some cases, indeed, a paper has been handed down from father to son, and in turn to the son's son, until it is regarded not only as the product of an individual, but as the product of a family. On the other hand, there are weeklies which have been taken over by men trained on city dailies, and some of these have made a conspicuous success. There is a fine reciprocity in it all: the weeklies making their contribution of personnel to the city papers, and the city papers to the weeklies."

FARM and RANCH TOPICSANTHRACNOSE FOUND

An instance of Anthracnose, also known as black-spot canker and Pacific Coast canker, in a local apple orchard is reported by Gordon White of Sardis Nurseries. The disease may attack the fruit causing rot, but the chief injury is done by the formation of cankers on the tree, particularly on the smaller branches. Now is the time to adopt preventive measures, Mr. White points out, details being available in Bulletin No. 68 and Circular No. 45 issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, Victoria.

BERRY PICKING RECORDS BY THREE MATSQUI GIRLS

It is reported that America Bassani, 14, picked 6½ crates of berries in 8 hours; Mary Patterson, 18, 5½ crates and Betty Borg, 13, 4½ crates on the ranch of Florindo Bassani, Ridgedale, Matsqui.

BULB GROWERS VISIT PUGET SOUND GARDENS; INSPECT NEW DRYER

Bulb gardens of Puyallup, Wn., were visited recently by a party of B.C. growers and agriculturists including J. P. Carr of Mt. Lehman, H. A. Paver of Bradner, J. Everett and sons of Port Kells, G. E. W. Clarke, district horticulturist, Abbotsford; G. Dixon, B.C.E.R. agriculturist, New Westminster; and Mr. Hastings of the experimental station at Saanichton. Principal interest to the local members of the party was a new system of curing tulip bulbs successfully adopted by the Washington growers. An electrical drying operation, it particularly intrigued the valley growers as they estimated operating costs would probably be even less in the Fraser Valley than in the Puget Sound district.

CHEESE PRODUCTION AND EXPORTS GAIN

Exports of Canadian cheese during the three months of March-May, 1939, amounted to 6,700,000 lb., a gain of 8.2 per cent over the corresponding period of 1938. There was also a 10.1 per cent increase (15,385,177 lb.) in cheese production during this period.

HUGE TOBACCO CROP FORECAST FOR ONTARIO

Ontario's biggest tobacco crop is in the making in the eight counties that constitute Ontario's tobacco bowl.

Cash revenue to growers may soar to the $20,000,000 mark, new level in the record-making progress of this industry. A survey of the growers and government sources showed acreage this year has topped the 77,000 acre mark for the first time.

Tobacco produced in 1930 was worth $6,244,000 and in 1938 it had skyrocketed to $18,293,000.

Seldom have tobacco men been as hopeful about markets as this year. British tobacco manufacturers bought the entire 1938 surplus of flue-cure tobacco, between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000 pounds, after a trade deal resulting in Canadian tobacco entering the British market at a duty two shillings less than United States tobacco.

There is still a question whether British smokers will accept the new Canadian type cigarette.

Care Needed In Feeding Poor HayAGRICULTURAL NEWS

Heavy rains throughout the state during June and the first half of July have added many difficulties to the cutting and storing of hay crops. In some cases the hay has been totally spoiled. But in the majority of cases, much of the hay crop may be used, authorities state, provided proper precautions are taken in storing and feeding it.

Much spoiled hay is being stacked and more of it will spoil because of poor methods of stacking. Such hay will be fed to livestock in spite of the molds. To reduce chances of stock poisoning, the worst portions such as stack bottoms and moldy pockets should be discarded.

Bleached, discolored and water-soaked hay has suffered much in value. It has lost aroma, is not very palatable, is low in mineral, and it is conceded that from 50 to 75 per cent of its vitamin A value is gone. Loss of color and loss of leaves indicate poor hay.

In addition, it must be kept in mind that when moldy, musty hay is fed, there is a constant threat of loss from poisoning. There is no actual proof that the types of molds which ordinarily grow on moist hay will poison live stock. However, the conditions under which these molds grow are also favorable for the growth of the poisonous types.

DAMP HAY DANGEROUS

Hay stored when damp or "green" is dangerous. A moisture content of 25 to 30 per cent is considered the danger zone with loose hay, and less than this for chopped hay. Bacteria may make the hay hot, but cannot set it on fire. They are destroyed by their own heat even before the hay chars.

If the stack contains no air, it does not heat; if it has an excess of air, it is safe. But if a little air reaches the oxygen-hungry gases, they absorb it eagerly, generating more heat. Should a large supply of air suddenly reach them, they are apt to react with the oxygen so energetically as to produce flame. Numberless other factors enter in, and the explanation is by no means a simple one.

Large hay stacks offer more opportunity for spontaneous combustion than smaller ones, because of a wider range of moisture and pressure. This is especially true of chopped hay. Heavier hays such as alfalfa and the clovers, are more likely to heat than the hollow stemmed grain hays.

SALT IS AID

By salting the hay, there is a slowing down of the generation of heat. However, the hay should be dry. Too much reliance must not be placed on the salt. The salt keeps down the growth of molds which cause musty hay and it also adds to the palatability. Feeding experiments show that 15 pounds of the finely ground hay salt is sufficient per ton of hay. Some use even 20 pounds per ton of hay. The salt must be evenly distributed. More salt than this is not advisable. A steer eating 30 pounds of hay daily, which has been salted at the rate of 15 pounds per ton, is consuming 3.6 ounces of salt, which is well above its actual daily requirement. If one were to salt very wet hay sufficiently to insure its keeping safely, it would be unfit for feed. Salt your hay.

THE MODERN HOME-MAKER

By AIMEE M. LEWIS

TEXTILE FACTS

Much progress is being made by the textile industry and manufacturers in turning out products which give satisfaction to the buyer in all respects.

Nothing is more disappointing than to have the dress we have shopped for so strenuously, lose its shape, color and finish after a few wearings.

It is to prevent just such an occurrence that the textile producers are working day and night. They have succeeded in perfecting some very effective processes which prevent these tragedies from occurring.

A process has been invented to make fabrics wrinkle-proof, and another for velvet makes it crush-resistant. Sanforizing or rendering a fabric fade-proof is a process which has been in use for a number of years.

Other processes include reduction of shrinkage capacity for cottons and woollens to less than 1 per cent. Another does away with the need for starching after laundering by rendering the fabric permanently crisp.

Still other finishes produce spot resistance and water repellancy.

YOUR DRESS FABRICS

Dresses which are made from fabrics which have been treated by any of these processes usually bear labels so indicating. Some of these labels bear the following names:

"Zelan"—a finish which makes dresses resist spots, stains and general dirt, as well as repel cold or lukewarm liquids. This process withstands repeated dry-cleaning and laundering.

Another similar process for outer garments is "Ban-dri." "Tebilized" is a label found on crush-resistant or crease-resistant fabrics, used on velvet, spun rayon, and also for cottons, linens and rayons. Crush-resistance is also called "martenzing" or "sheltonizing."

Sanforizing is an old process, well known to all, since cotton, linens and spun rayons have long been treated, but now there is also sanforized wool to be had. "Naphthalated wool" means the wool is cleaned in naphtha during manufacture. This guarantees a pure, resilient wool in lovely clear colors.

"Cravenette" is a water-repellant process for outer garments. This process can be renewed at any time or can be given to a garment which has never been so treated.

"Bellmanized" is the name given to the process which eliminates the necessity of starching to restore a crisp finish.

Other labels insuring quality as well as finish are to be found on many garments. Learn to know and recognize these labels. If you do, your shopping problem will be rendered infinitely easier.

PIE SCIENCE

Take the guesswork out of pie-making.

The season for berry pies and fresh fruit pies is so short that it is easy to forget just how much sugar or how much flour to use with each kind. We want these pies to carry fresh fruit flavors, to be juicy enough but not too juicy, and to be sweet enough, but not too sweet; to have flaky, light crusts and not to run over. Here are some schedules which will give excellent results:

BERRY PIE

1 qt. berries
1-1/4 c. sugar
2-4 tbsp flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tbsp. butter

The amounts of sugar and flour depend on the kind of berry.

Line pan with 1-8-inch thick crust, allowing enough to build up edges. Fill with berries which have been mixed with flour and sugar. Have upper crust rolled a little thinner. Allow upper crust to lap over lower crust 1/2 inch. Moisten lower crust to seal perfectly and fold top crust under the lower. Trim and crimp edges, turning up. Bake in 450 degree oven 10 to 15 minutes, then lower to 350 degrees and bake 30 minutes longer.

PEACH OR APRICOT PIE

3/4 to 4 c. fruit
2-4 tbsp. flour
1 1/4 c. sugar
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 1/2 tsp. butter

dangerous.

PRECAUTION ADVISED

In case of doubt as to the safety in storing rain-damaged, musty hay, it is a wise precaution to stack the hay for a period of 5 to 7 weeks out of doors, thus permitting it to go through a "sweat." Such hay is then safe for chopping into the barn. Such a plan means extra labor, but in the long run it is much worthwhile. The loss of a barn by fire is a tragedy. The effect of this may have a depressing effect for many years. The wise stockman plays safe.

Feed the poorest hay early in the fall. It does not improve with storage and the animals are in good shape, carrying food reserves over from the pasture season. Also the poor hay may be blended with the greener, brighter hays.

Off-grade hay is consumed more readily if chopped, since fresh surfaces are exposed and the palatability is improved. The weathered hay may be rendered quite palatable by moistening it with cane or beet molasses water. Or—but be sure it is thoroughly dry.

A few years ago, one farmer chopped over 200 tons of alfalfa hay directly from the hay shocks. However, much rain fell during the haying season, as is generally the case, and the cocks were not turned sufficiently to permit proper drying. As the heavy chopped hay settled in the barn, it began to heat. Finally one night a heavy wind and rain storm came and the moist air and oxygen blew in under the eaves and barn supports and ignited the mass. The huge flames demolished the entire barn in a short time. Although no one seems to understand the exact causes, it pays to be careful. Wet, improperly cured hay is

FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR MISSION

Tetsuo Fujikawa, 19, farmer of Silverdale, died in Mission hospital at 4 a.m. Saturday from injuries suffered in an auto crash on the Lougheed highway at the foot of Thompson hill, 1½ miles west of Mission, at 11:45 p.m. Friday. He was riding in a car driven by Bertil Lowe when it crashed into the rear of a stalled truck loaded with shingle bolts, which had been left on the side of the road. Lowe suffered cuts and bruises but was not seriously injured.

COAST EDITION
Vancouver - New Westminster motorists, many of whom the Association has found have never visited the Fraser Valley, are told that the "Scenic Circle" invites them for an afternoon, full day or weekend outing in the country, among the farms, in the hills, by the streams and lakes. The short circle trip, they are told, is a drive of 93 miles east to Abbotsford and Mission; the long circle trip, a full day or weekend excursion of 155 miles. The Fraser Valley, it is also mentioned, offers the short route to Mount Baker National Park.

A two-color map outlines the routes and principal centres; a handy distance chart gives mileage and two columns' mention places in each supporting centre where the motorist may obtain information, assistance or service. Supporters are more numerous this year and consequently a greater variety of accommodation is shown to be available to visitors.

SPONSORS

Boards of Trade at Abbotsford, Agassiz-Harrison, Chilliwack, Haney (Maple Ridge Junior Board of Trade), Mission City, New Westminster, and the Lions Club and Chamber of Commerce at Sumas, Wn., are the sponsors and members of the International Scenic Loop Association. In each centre they are assisted principally by the active business men catering to motorists and tourists and desiring to enhance this traffic as a means of providing a steady flow of outside money to communities usually devoid of industries and otherwise dependent on present depressed agricultural returns.

Ten persons died and 216 were injured in British Columbia's traffic accidents during July. Seven of the ten victims were pedestrians, one was a driver, one was a passenger and one a cyclist.

ROBERT SMYTH NEW TELEPHONE PLANT CHIEF

Robert Smyth, official of the B.C. Telephone Co. for 23 years, has been appointed successor to C. A. McMasters, retiring district plant chief for New Westminster and the Fraser Valley, the head office of the company announces.

Mr. Smyth has been transmission chief and reserve wire chief in Greater Vancouver for some years and has had wide experience as superintendent of switchboard construction and equipment engineer. He assumes his new post at New Westminster on Tuesday.

Mr. McMaster, popular official of the company for 27 years and in New Westminster since 1922, retired at the end of July to move to Arizona.

Poor Hay

dinarily the molasses is diluted 2½ to 3 times with water. Vitamin A protects animals from infections of the lungs and digestive tracts. Poor hay is low in this factor. Animals subsisting entirely on such hay should have their rations improved. An occasional feeding of good, green hay, or silage, or the yellow-fleshed root crops or pumpkins and squashes will help correct this deficiency.

SPORTS

VANCOUVER PEE WEES
AND JUVENILES
BEAT ABBOTSFORD

Judging by the sport activities last Sunday, Abbotsford might have been celebrating her Golden Jubilee, or some such thing. Sport fans were treated to two ball games, and also to two lacrosse games. The softball team fared well, but the lacrosse players suffered defeat at the hands of South Vancouver's fast squads.

In the first game, the Abbotsford Pee Wees were badly outclassed and outscored 22-6. The Vancouver team, although much heavier than the local squad, were also fine stick handlers, and worked the ball around from man to man. The Abbotsford goalie seemed to be lost under his pads, and didn't have much of a chance against the sharp shooting of the opposing forwards. Little Gordon Calvert, who plays for Abbotsford is worth his weight in lacrosse balls, and is certainly a one man team. He turned in a fine performance, netting five out of six of the Abbotsford tallies. Combining brains with neat stick work he outsmarted the big Vancouver goalie on several occasions.

The second game on Sunday's schedule was between Abbotsford Juveniles and South Vancouver Juveniles. Abbotsford borrowed two of the other teams players, but still couldn't match the play of their opponents. The lads from Vancouver really knew what to do with the ball when they got it, and they looked like a smooth working lacrosse machine on many of their plays. In contrast to the local boys play, which seems to lack any system, the Vancouver squad scored on plays which appeared to be mapped out for them, with each man coming into position to help his team mates. Despite their inability to score, however, the local boys are a hard-checking outfit, and held their smooth opponents down to 10 goals, and probably sent them home nursing a few bruises. The final score was 10-5 for the city boys.

REUNION DINNER
OF 7TH BATTALION

Annual reunion dinner of the 7th Battalion C.E.F. will be held in Vancouver on Saturday, September 2, E. Enzor, secretary, announces. The reunion date has been planned to coincide with 'fair week' in Vancouver, to allow out-of-town veterans to visit the Canada Pacific Exhibition.

Battalion headquarters for the day will be the Quadra Club, where the big dinner is scheduled to commence at 7 p.m. Former members are requested to mail their reservations to the secretary, P.O. Box 187, Vancouver.

POTATO CLUB
PREPARING FOR ANNUAL CONTEST

The Poplar Boys' Potato Club meeting was held at the home of the leader, Mr. H. Green, on Monday evening. Mr. R. G. Sutton, District Agriculturist, was present. An interesting time was had inspecting the potatoes and discussing their growth and diseases. The boys obtained valuable information from Mr. Sutton which will help them in their contest at the Vancouver Exhibition, the winners of which will attend the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto in November of this year.

DOWNED 9-2

Abbotsford's boxla boys went down to the Pitt Meadows squad on Monday night on the grounds of the victors, 9-2. The local team suffered from the lack of several "first stringers" but still put up a fight that worried the Meadows team plenty at times.

A fine body of people! A great bunch of enthusiasts! After Mr. and Mrs. Public getting a calling down about collections at boxla games, by the Editor last week, they put only $1.85 in the hat for two games on Sunday. What burns the boys up is the fact that the people who knock the team are the ones not contributing. What that "box" needs is a high wall around it and a turnstile at the entrance—and a definite admission charge.

A little suggestion has come to the ears of the writer about a "Swim Day" for district people. Doing a little enquiring into the idea we find that merchants in the town appear to be favorable in their comments. Mill Lake was suggested as the place and about the end of August as the time.

THINGS AND STUFF

The B.Q.L. has vaguely offered a free lunch to the Abbs-Reps if they are nice boys... Reports from the hospital say Bob Conway is "doin' all right." We'll bet Bob would like to be in there fighting with the Abbs-Reps—and so do the Abbs-Reps... Eric T. Weir donated one big bottle of liniment and several smaller bottles to the A.A.A. We're going to suggest some of it be rubbed on Vanetta's head to take the swelling down. After getting a deliberate walk by the Johnston Motors pitcher on Friday, it might need it... Jim McPhee is going to leave soon for Merrie England to take over duties running King George's Royal Air Force—yeh, running it ragged... "Dom" Fountain starred in Monday's ball game with two circus catches behind third base... Jas. Lawrence won the $7.50 sweep for Sunday's ball game... Chilliwack has a good bunch of sports playing softball... The Abbs-Reps should send Johnston Motors a copy of the "Scenic Loop" folder to let them know what a beautiful country we have out here...

$73 REALIZED AT TENNIS SOCIAL AND RAFFLE

Winners of the tennis racquets raffled by the Central Fraser Valley Tennis Club on Thursday night at the box social on the lawn of Mrs. M. Trethewey were: 1st, Allan Trethewey; 2nd, Mrs. Elsie Matthews; 3rd, Mrs. F. Harvey; 4th, Richard Trethewey; 5th, Mrs. F. G. Saunders. Allan and Richard Trethewey both auctioned off their old racquets, Bill Macbeth getting the first and Miss Joan Saunders, the other. The affair netted the club $73.

Work has begun on hard-surfacing the courts. Gravel is being laid today and the asphalt will be laid on Friday. Play on the courts will begin about the middle of next week.

curve. For some time this has been a popular picnicking spot for motorists. It is hoped to further encourage its use and develop a market for farm produce, berries, etc., with motorists. Hazelwood Park adjoins the cemetery of the same name.

Details would be made public, the reeve said, as soon as they are received. He made it clear, however, that these developments are not relief but work projects. Foremen will be in charge of each job and a full day's work will be required of every man employed.
